To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Olivia Vitale, a very responsible and hardworking student. I have had the pleasure of having Olivia in Art Class this year while a student at Barren County High School. Olivia is responsible, personable, and hardworking.

Olivia's responsibility as a high school student is admirable. Olivia has challenged herself by taking several AP and Dual credit courses here at BCHS. Not only does she handle the demanding responsibilities of these classes, but she also holds a job. The time management and discipline required are impressive traits for today's young people.

Olivia is also a very personable student which is another notable quality. Olivia works very well with others. She is a good listener, understanding, and enjoyable to converse with. Along the same lines is her willingness to ask questions, share and discuss ideas, as well as being receptive to criticism.

Lastly, Olivia is hardworking and determined. As mentioned above, she takes rigorous courses while also working. She is determined to do the best she can for herself. In conversation, she has shown maturity in her thinking and planning for the future. In the art classroom she has worked extremely hard to grow as an artist and has in fact exceeded expectations. I have really enjoyed watching her work with such determination and craftsmanship.

Olivia has been a pleasure to teach and as you can see she has many notable qualities that reflect a successful student and individual. Her personality, responsibility, hard work, and determination have been refreshing in the classroom. It is my pleasure to recommend Ms. Olivia Vitale.

Sincerely,

Lauren Simmons
